

After listening to several radio and tv programs on this issue, I feel very strongly that it would be harmful to the American public to deregulate and allow large conglomerates to control our air waves. Once this "genie is out of the bottle" it will be impossible to put it back in.